Dear Mary,

Tunisia is beautiful and a lot of people speak French here. We are visiting a lot of historic places. The food tastes "different", -sometimes I don't know what I'm eating!

Today we are visiting amphitheatre El Jem, the colosseum of Tunisia. I like it very much because it's big and doesn't look very old. I feel so impressed and small next to it! A lot of people have camels here. We are enjoying every moment of our Christmas holiday because the weather is warm here.

Hope you like my postcard!

Love Kathy
